Russian Veto Blocks Plan for Berlin Peace

Proposal by Neutrals Fails by 9 to 2 Vote

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky to night vetoed the plan submitted by the six "neutral" members of the United Nations Security Council for settling the Berlin dispute.

It was the Soviet Union's 28th veto and the second cast by Vishinsky personally. The vote was 9 to 2, with Russia and the Soviet Union casting the lone negative votes.

Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Atilio Bramuglia, acting president of the council, told newsmen: "I will keep on trying to get a peaceful settlement."

He spoke for the five other "neutrals"—China, Syria, Belgium, Canada and Colombia—as well as his own country.

"I am sure," Bramuglia said, "neither of the parties wants to reach the worst now. And it is my duty to try to bring them to an agreement. Their differences have been very much ironed out so far and they may still be brought to a coincidence in viewpoints."

THE DISCUSSION just before the vote disclosed that the major sticking point between Russia and the Western powers was when will the Russian blockade on Berlin be lifted, and when will the Russian make the currency for all four sectors in Berlin?

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, U. S. delegate, told the council that responsibility for stopping council action rested solely upon the Soviet Union.

Immediately after the vote, Jessup went over to Bramuglia and congratulated him for his efforts to bring Russia and the Western powers together.

You know that this is not over yet," Jessup told Bramuglia. "You know that you will have to continue working for a solution."

As he left the jammed hall, Vishinsky said to a reporter: "My position is perfectly clear. There is nothing to do about it."

THE VETOED resolution proposed that Russia and the Western powers lift all restrictions on communications with Berlin as soon as the four governments had been notified that the resolution was adopted.

It also provided that at that moment the military governors of the four powers in Berlin would be (Continued on Page Six)

Woman Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter in Killing of Police Chief

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Ann Powers today unprompted interrupted her murder trial in the shooting of Capt. Thomas Rowe to plead guilty to manslaughter.

The prosecutor did not object, and Essex County Court Judge Joseph Conlon accepted the plea. He told the jury that at a conference earlier in chambers he had refused to accept a plea of no defense.

During the conference it was disclosed in a transcript read to the jury, Conlon asked the 39-year-old Mrs. Powers:

"Did you shoot Capt. Rowe?" "Yes, I did," replied Mrs. Powers.

ROWE WAS SHOT fatally on May 21. He was alone in his precinct office when Mrs. Powers after a night of visiting bars Mrs. Powers had maintained he shot himself while she dozed.

Mrs. Powers broke down after the guilty plea for the first time since her trial started a week ago. She sobbed hysterically as court attendants led her from the courtroom and screamed as she went into a corridor.

Rowe's widow, a spectator in the courtroom, burst into sobs as she heard the slim, red-haired woman plead guilty.

COURT UPHOLDS BAN ON BOOK

High Tribunal Votes To Support New York Ruling Against 'Memoirs'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Supreme court today backed up New York's action in banning 'Memoirs of Helene Stieglitz' as an obscene book not protected by the free press guarantee of the Constitution.

The decision of Edmund Wilson's collection of short stories was 4 to 4 and there were no written opinions to show any of the high court's reasoning.

The effect of a tie vote is to uphold lower courts. In this case it affirmed State court decisions which had assessed Doubleday and Company Inc. a fine of $1000 for publishing the book.

JUSTICE FRANKFURTER took no part in the case. Hence his vote on any comparable test in the future might throw the decision either way. He gave no reason for sitting out the 'Memoirs' case. How the other justices voted was not disclosed.

Publishers have shown great interest in the litigation as the test of how far states may go in general bans against alleged obscenity.

220,000 HEAR TRUMAN ASSAIL GOP IN CHICAGO

President Says American Way of Life Threatened; 750,000 See Procession

By The Associated Press

President Truman got the most tremendous demonstration of his campaign last night in Chicago but the Republicans didn't think much of his speech.

Thousands of spectators turned out to greet the President in a colorful tumult as he paraded through Chicago before making a speech at Chicago's big stadium.

Police estimated the crowd along the streets at approximately 750,000. Some 24,000 packed into the stadium to hear and watch the President make his speech, while about 200,000, by the stadium manager's estimate, heard the President from loudspeakers outside the place.

Red flares, fireworks, music, bunting, and banners adorned with 'all Chicago welcomes President Truman' set the stage for his speech in Chicago stadium.

Republicans get their chance tonight to demonstrate for Dewey at Chicago. He will speak there at 10 p. m.

DEWEY PULLED OUT of Albany shortly after midnight on his special train also on the final lap of his battle for the presidency.

Besides visiting Illinois, he will hit five other states during the week. Mr. Truman last night told an audience which frequently interrupted him with applause.

"The American way of life which most of us have been taking for granted is threatened today by powerful forces, powerful reactionary forces which are steadily undermining our democratic institutions," Mr. Truman declared.

Answering his own question: What are these forces that threaten our way of life, he said:

"They are the men who want to see inflation continue unchecked. They are the men who are striving to concentrate great economic power (Continued on Page Six)

BOROUGH ERECTS 'ONE WAY' SIGNS

New Traffic Regulations To Be Put Into Effect On Chestnut, Walnut Sts.

Erect on of 'One Way' signs on Chestnut and Walnut streets, is expected to be completed today.

Borough highway workers began putting up the signs yesterday, leading the way to enforcement of a borough ordinance approved at the August council meeting.

The ordinance calls for east-bound traffic on Chestnut street and westbound on Walnut street.

In addition to the 'One Way' signs others reading 'Do Not Enter' are being placed at the intersections.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said the locations of the signs at crossings were prescribed by the local police department.

The total cost of the signs is approximately $320. Each sign including post and installation, cost Pottstown about $3 and 20 of the signs will be placed on each of the two streets.

Posts for the new signs were placed the past week. Sears said although some of the signs were on hand then none were put in position until all had arrived in order that overall enforcement could begin at one time.

ANTICIPATING the correction of the 'No Left Turn' signs painted on Hanover street and on High street Sears said that H. C. Gaffert, State Highway department traffic engineer would arrive from Ardmore early this week.

Gaffert will advise the borough how the incorrectly painted signs should have been done, and those painted the past week too small and in the wrong word order, will be corrected.

The signs being left turns by southbound traffic on Hanover street into High street and by eastbound traffic from High street into North Charlotte street.

Passing Trucker Puts Out Blaze in Automobile

A car fire on Route 100 south of Halfway House was extinguished last night at 6 o'clock by a passing trucker before the pumper of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company could answer a call from neighbors.

The blaze apparently from a northbound car started on the north side of the car neighbors reported. The trucker sprang from his car with an extinguisher.

Both drivers left without leaving their names for the fire company report.

SWISS GIVEN FIRST HAND RODEO VIEW

GENEVA, Oct. 25 (AP)—Forty cowboys and cowgirls of an American rodeo company were ordered expelled from Switzerland today after a free-for-all fight last night at the Palais des Expositions which was somewhat in the tradition of the old 'Wild West.'

The outbreak left a large number of Geneva policemen with bruised knuckles, battered uniforms and slight headaches.

Larry Sunbrook of Winter Garden, Fla., whom the Swiss newspapers described as 'chief of the tribe,' was in the police station explaining the fracas to the police the American cowboy and his creditors. He was ordered to pay 1000 francs (about $250) for torn uniforms, lost buttons and other police property damage.

The police made each member of the show sign a statement admitting that he had 'gravely abused the hospitality granted him by our country of taking part in the riot.'

Dorothy Breslin nine-year-old trick rider from De Land, Fla., was among those ordered to leave.

The Communist newspaper 'Voix Ouvriere' jumped into the argument and said the cowboys had come to Switzerland 'in application of the Marshall plan.' The paper referred to the cowboys as a 'group of savages' and 'this band of Apaches.'

It all started at the end of last night's performance when a Swiss named Michaud accepted the show's challenge to ride a sorrel pony named Income Tax for at least 10 seconds and win 1000 francs. Michaud came in on it. The cowboy, said he wasn't even riding Income Tax but had managed to hang onto a horse named Fift for about 10 seconds.

There also was an argument over an automobile when Sunbrook engaged with a deposit of 1500 francs to be driven up a ramp by a daredevil and hurled over a bus. Apparently that dispute concerned how much of the 1500 francs the owner of the automobile was to retain after picking up his car on the other side of the bus.

There was a minor scuffle at first but it quickly grew into a free-for-all. At its peak it was reminiscent of a barroom set-to in a Western movie.

Sometime during the melee Ruth Wall a trick rider from St. Joseph, Mo., was not over the head three times and knocked unconscious, the cowboys said.

The newspaper La Suisse reported that the cowboy then demanded a pistol duel between the attacker and the husband of the victim—all according to everyday custom in Texas apparently. There was no duel.

O. D. Miller of Sarasota, Fla., one of the cowboys, was definitely about Income Tax and Michaud (Continued on Page Six)

Thousands Turn Out To Witness Parade Of Community Chest

By HARRY TOLAND (Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown couldn't have welcomed Lindbergh much better than it did the opening of the Community Chest's general drive last night.

The parade, which signaled the start of the annual campaign for individual donations was the most spectacular premier in the Chest's local history.

It might not have been the biggest in borough history, but was one of the most varied. About 1000 marched.

There were bands, drum and bugle corps floats, paraders in cars, on cars and just walking. There were dignitaries and kids running along yelling.

A lot of people marched, but a lot more watched — about 10,000. They watched from galleries, parked cars, from windows along the way and rooftops. Some kids got their view from the rear of parade cars.

All of the Chest's 12 agencies exhibited floats. The goal this year is $97,307, of which more than a third has been collected.

THE PARADE BEGAN only a few minutes late. The delay was due to tardiness of half a dozen units.

Three blasts from the horn on borough hall at 7:45 p. m., scheduled starting time, warned policemen to switch traffic off High street onto Beech Cars entered Beech directly off High at the East End and via Main avenue at the West End.

Ten minutes later Louis Semenza, manager of the Glass Fireworks company, Douglasville, Pa., set off a fireworks boom in the Dozier Fire Casting plant, by prearranged plan, and the parade was off.

Clearing the way on the course, which wound for 14 miles down High street from Keim to York street, was a sound truck and police patrol car.

JOAN FULMER, Miss Red Feather, smiling radiantly under ear-born spotlights and clutching a bunch of red roses, was perched high on the back seat of the following car.

The strong wind, which blew away clouds just before the demonstration, did not penetrate her pure white ermine coat she said, but forced her to remove a large gold-colored crown.

The Pottstown band, red-uniformed and led by William F. Lamb Jr., followed immediately, trailed by 14 agencies on foot.

Headed by Burgess William A. Griffith honorary grand marshal, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears and Ernest V. Hunter, grand marshal, the group carried magnesium torches and kept step remarkably. There were no councilmen in the group.

The next group officers of veterans organizations, carried the largest number of flags in the parade, but were torn between two bands for marching time.

After them came the huge mass of 50 groups which took an hour to pass the reviewing stand between Hanover and Penn streets.

Officials and Miss Fulmer dropped out of line and mounted to the stand where they viewed the remainder.

Three more big cash prize winners came through again this past week with tips on stories that made news for Mercury.

Thomas Quinter 367 Jefferson avenue will be rubbing his lucky rabbit's foot each time he calls The Mercury in the future because he was awarded the $5 first prize.

Quinter took the top award with a report of a proler who danced a snout in a bar after trying to break into a bar home. The story of the bar home and luck appeared in yesterday's edition of The Mercury.

SECOND PRIZE of $3 went to Anna Ladarski 60 South Evans street who reported that her name was recovered on Evans street at 4 o'clock yesterday morning by Patrolman Harry Chispen who notified Davis.

Chispen showed that a glove and a pair of sunglasses were missing were torn from the fire police spotlight and the glove compartment had been searched.

It was noted however that the glove was not full and Davis remembered he had only a half tank of gas drove to a service station for a check.

The gauge was right. The thief had filled his tank.

Generous Thief Fills Tank of Stolen Auto

First Police Lieutenant Donald G. Davis 107 High street got a pleasant surprise when his car was recovered yesterday morning—the thief had filled his gas tank for him.

Davis had parked his car behind the Good Will Fire company building on South Hanover street early Sunday night. While he stepped inside to pick up a friend someone picked up his car.

It was recovered on Evans street at 4 o'clock yesterday morning by Patrolman Harry Chispen who notified Davis.

Blaze Started By Boys Gang Near Garages

A blaze started when a gang of boys lit a pile of leaves on Union alley west of North Penn street, endangered a home and a row of garages last night at about 8:45 o'clock.

The flames were spotted by Joseph Rinaldi, 16, of 165 North Charlotte street, as he was walking up Charlotte street, returning from the Community Chest parade where he had marched with the Pottstown High school band.

As he ran down narrow Union street to Penn street, he said, a gang of about ten boys fled south on Penn street.

Rinaldi said the flames had caught the thick hedge about 25 feet in front of the home of Louis Semenza, 241 Union street, and were licking at the wooden doors of a row of garages on the north side of Union street.

He continued down Penn street to the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company building. Walter Groff, driver, took the company's smaller crawler to the scene, where his crew extinguished the flames with a booster line.

The hedge was charred in one spot as were the bottom of a wooden gate and telephone pole. There was no other damage.

It was Groff's third fire call of the day.

Police Hunt Vandals Blocking Roads With School-Bus Shelters

Young vandals have been overturning school-bus shelters in East Coventry township and dragging them into the middle of township roads. Devon State police reported last night.

Sgt. James L. Brennan issued the blunt warning: "If we find juveniles are doing it, we will send them to the juvenile home; if we find it is being done by older persons, we will prosecute immediately."

The assaults on the shelters have been made for the past week between 9 p. m. and midnight, the sergeant asserted and have centered around Hiestand Corner and Ellis Woods.

IN ADDITION to blocking roads with the heavy wooden shelters he said the vandals have been burning corn shocks and knocking over road signs.

The shelters have been removed from the roads by tractors of the neighboring farmers.

Draft Call of 20,000 Is Set for January

In its latest previous draft call the Army asked 10,000 men for November and 15,000 for December.

Officials said that by January, the Army expects to be ready to parole 20,000 selective service inductees a month, in addition to voluntary enlistees. Induction, training and personnel facilities will be expanded to take care of the increased traffic.

Spaak (Belgium) Churchill (England) Blum (France) DeGasper (Italy)

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Oct. 25 (AP)—Winston Churchill, Leon Blum of France and Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium are expected to lead the movement for a new Europe. The movement, which is being organized by the European movement, an organization to promote the unity of Europe.

Duncan Sandys, president of the movement's executive committee, announced this today.

"The aim of this new body will be to promote a progressive unity of Europe by every means available," Sandys, a son-in-law of Churchill, said. "It will work for unity and freedom not only in Western Europe but in all of Europe."

"THE MEANS WILL be found of associating with us the peoples of Eastern Europe who at present are separated from us," Sandys said. "The policy of the European movement is to form an international council of persons from all the free countries of Europe. National councils now are being formed in all these lands. ## Brussels Alliance Seeks Military Treaty With U. S.

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—Foreign ministers of Britain, France and the Benelux countries met today to discuss how their alliance could be linked in a military treaty relationship with the United States and Canada.

Authoritative American and British sources said this was expected to be the central theme of the three-day conference. The ministers are meeting for the third time as the consultative council of the five-nation Brussels alliance.

A Washington dispatch said invitations to a conference to craft a military alliance between North America and Western Europe probably will go out soon after next week's presidential election.

FRENCH TROOPS SEIZE 12 MINES

Strikers Surrender Pits As 30,000 Units Move In; Coal Fields Area Quiet

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—Thirty thousand heavily armed French troops and police occupied approximately half of the nation's key northern coal fields today and seized at least 12 strike mines.

No violence was reported as the government forces, including Moroccan infantry units, moved in before dawn. Pickets merely surrendered the pits to troops backed up by armored cars and heavy machineguns.

Government officials used battle-like language to describe the operation, saying "All objectives were reached without incident."

The government forces swept over about 280 square miles in the area near the Belgian border. The main reserves of struck mines took place at Valenciennes and Douai. About 15 arrests were made.

QUIET PREVAILED in the central and southern coal fields. The French mine strike has been in progress since Oct. 4, costing the nation and through it the projects for European recovery, an estimated 3,000,000 tons of coal.

The Communists who called the strike showed no open signs of weakening. Communist deputy Arthur Ramette told a miners' meeting at Denain, near Valenciennes, that if troops and police are kept in the coal fields the miners "will undertake a battle that will last as long as necessary" to drive them out.

Interior Minister Jules Moinet in a broadcast to miners said the troops were being used to prevent the destruction of hundreds of millions of francs of national wealth.

The mines are declared as "endangered" by the national decision of Communist union leaders to abandon safety devices.

KOREAN FORCES ATTACK LAST REBEL-HELD CITY

Loyal Troops Reported In Outskirts of Yosu; Rebellion Nearly Quelled.

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday, Oct. 26 (AP)—South Korean army headquarters today reported fighting on the outskirts of Yosu during the night and said there was a good chance loyal troops had regained the port city where the army rebellion began six days ago.

Even before this report reached Seoul, headquarters had announced the insurrection had been reduced to the stage of mopping up separated bands of insurgents in the affected area in southwest Korea.

The Korean navy reported capture of two rebel craft in Yosu harbor in a raid on Sunday, but there was no word of a planned army attack.

PREMIER LEE BUM SUK, who also is defense minister, said he would tour the affected area about 150 to 185 miles southwest of Seoul, starting tomorrow. Lee has urged the uprising to Communists, with conviction of extreme rightists.

Korean officials did not alter their original estimate of "less than 500" dead on the government side. But Tom Lamber, Associated Press correspondent on the scene, reported 600 dead on both sides in the city of Suncheon alone.

Suncheon is 20 miles north of Yosu. The rebels held it for a little more than two days, then fled south, southwest and east when loyal troops entered on Friday. Police resumed normal duties there on Monday.

One unofficial report said seven rebel trucks were captured nine miles east of Suncheon, the farthest east rebel activities have yet been placed.

UNREST IN THE AMERICAS

Plot Uncovered in Panama, Paraguay Swept by Revolt

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Paraguayan government today announced tonight the surrender of the leader of a revolt against President Natercio Gonzalez but said fighting continued in the capital.

The rebellion was touched off yesterday when a plane dropped several bombs on Asuncion.

The radio said Col. Carlos Montanaro, leader of a group of cadets from the Paraguayan military academy, had surrendered but resistance continued in the academy building which would be difficult to mop up.

There was no direct communication with Asuncion and it was impossible to present a clear picture of the situation there.

Reports received here said the rebels, joined by 200 sailors, had given battle to the police, who remained loyal to the government.

THE LATEST REPORT put out by the Asuncion radio said a pocket of rebel resistance had surrendered in the heart of the city but other revolutionaries were fleeing to a refuge across the Paraguay river from the Argentine town of Puerto Plomayo.

The radio said President Gonzalez had gone to the headquarters of a cavalry division at the nearby military establishment of Campo Grande. It added that government forces had controlled the capital despite the president's departure.

The radio admitted that some members of Gonzalez' cabinet had joined the rebels. The broadcast said Mario Mallorquin, minister of economy, had been captured while leading a rebel attack.

PANAMA, Panama, Oct. 25 (AP)—Police said today they had uncovered a plot to overthrow the 25-day-old regime of President Domingo Diaz Arosemena and had arrested the ringleaders including a former president, a former ambassador to Washington and a high police official.

The announcement by Paul Acevedo, chief of the secret police, came after a series of terrorist outbreaks here last night. Two persons were wounded, one fatally, and three police officers were abducted and held for several hours during the disorders. Firemen also reported finding evidence of attempted arson in at least two places in the city.

Police received orders early today from Minister of Government Jose Daniel Crespo to shoot any persons attempting a repetition of the outbreaks. Crespo said the government is maintaining vigilance throughout the republic to preserve order. The capital city appeared quiet now.

ACEVEDO SAID last night's violence, which included the bombing of the Litoral (government) party headquarters was part of the revolutionary plot. He also disclosed that police had confiscated arms intended for use in the revolt.

The plotter, Acevedo added already had decided on a provisional junta to govern the country in case their movement succeeded.

Acevedo said former President Harmodio Arias, former ambassador to Washington, J. J. Vallarino and Major Francisco Aued, deputy chief of police are being held in connection with the plot. Aued has been removed from his police post.

Says Man Has Strange Powers That Work While He Sleeps

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness.

Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices.

He is guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The author states the time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9000-word treatise which reveals many startling results—to readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. ## GOP 'Assured' Win in Kansas; Battles Loom in Southwest

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25 (AP)—If you're looking for something sure politically—it there is such a thing—take the Republicans in Kansas.

GOP leaders already are counting that state's eight electoral votes as theirs. But that's about far enough to talk with authority in these parts.

The Democrats are banking on taking Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. There are 48 electoral votes in the three states—23 in Texas, 15 in President Truman's home state of Missouri and 10 in Oklahoma.

The Republicans are hopeful in Texas and Oklahoma, both traditionally Democratic, and are slugging it out in Missouri with election day just a week away.

Missouri began moving over to the Republican side in 1940. The late Franklin D. Roosevelt carried it four times, but his majorities ranged down from a 460,000 high in 1932 to 46,000 four years ago.

In 1946, Missouri went heavily Republican and today both its senators and nine of its 13 congressmen are Republicans.

Oklahoma is rated borderline by both Republicans and Democrats.

Set for the Season

THE cool weather is making small game hunters itchy. They're all set for the opening of the hunting season Monday. Some of them unfortunately, are ready to dust off the old grapes, too, about farmers posting "No Hunting," "No Shooting," "No Trespassing" and "Keep Out" signs.

There's lots of good hunting land in the three counties around Pottstown. Berks, Montgomery and Chester counties afford plenty of farmland and woodland good for hunting. Those areas posted with signs may be the result of a few careless, irresponsible gunners of the past.

For instance, take the situation of a farmer with a relatively small pasture. Hunters swarm all over his place, basting away until it sounds like a young battle in progress. Grazing cattle scatter, frightened by the barrage of shotgun blasts.

One nearby farmer, explaining the effect this often has on his cattle, said, "Believe it or not, you can run at least two pounds off of every steer just by chasing that animal across a field."

That's part of the answer to the "No Shooting" signs dotting the county.

Another reason for "No Trespassing" signs is the eager-beaver hunter familiar to many sportsmen. He's the type who shoots at anything alive, shoots the bag limit, if possible, blasts away at the last bird in a covey, even though requested to "leave a few birds for seed."

It's amazing how many guys who ordinarily exhibit perfect manners seem to go hog-wild as soon as they don hunting jackets. Just a little bit of ordinary common sense and courtesy will go a long way toward improving relationships between sportsmen and farmers.

In the first place, ask permission to hunt. Get the lay of the land, and if the farmer says, "Wish you boys would stay out of that lower end of the place where the cattle are," then stay out.

The city gunner would scream to high heaven if a half dozen fellows opened his front door and tramped through the house, upsetting furniture, shooting out his lights—just for target practice. No fun, you say.

The average farmer is pretty much like the average city gunner when it comes to being a fairly decent sort of fellow.

Most of them, however, are like the city gunners in that they prefer to choose their company, so it is only a matter of common courtesy to ask permission to enter a man's woods or fields, and then act like a gentleman.

Scotch Is Scotch

ANYBODY who could separate Scotch whisky from Scotland could dissociate champagne from France, vodka from Russia, or water from the W.C.T.U.

That's all we've got to say about the dispute among American distillers and importers over whether whisky that doesn't come from Scotland can be called Scotch.

They can call American-made Scotch-type whisky Scotch if they want to, but Scotch it will not be.

For Scotch is a consortium of the barley and the peat smoke of Scotland, and the water of the River Spey, and an oak cask from which sherry has been emptied, with some of the gentle burr of the Scots speech thrown in for good measure, to make the product a warm beneficence within the man who drinks it, instead of something to larrup him up.

"Freedom and whisky" quoth Roboeburns, "gang together!" Of all the whiskeys that go with freedom, Scotch goes with it best. And we will take the liberty of limiting that remark to the liquid laughter that peals out from between Wigtown and Kirkwall, and from between Aberdeen and Ssye.

Germany's Tobacco

THERE is, of course, no limit to how crass and selfish an American pressure group can be. Even so, Southern tobacco growers may have set a new high in protesting the use of Marshall Plan funds to purchase Greek and Turkish tobacco for Western Germany.

Congress has appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars to aid the Greek and Turkish fight on Communist encroachment. One of the purchases of their tobacco would require as much as the direct monetary aid needed from the United States.

Said the astounded American tobacco growers: "Wait a minute. Paul Hoffman, administrator of European aid, has responded with a 'No.' It's all right, the public to watch, though, because Kentucky and North Carolina hang in the balance politically."

Wal, I see by the papers where there's agitation to have Santa Claus cut out that hearty laugh of his because he's heary "Ho! Ho! Ho!" frightens children. Shucks! All the kids are scared of it that they won't get what they wrote for.

Next thing you know someone will be agitating for a clean-shaven Santa. Or maybe a tee-heeing Kris Kringle!

And say: If the department store Saint Nick starts giving forth with a leering "Ho! Ho! He! He!" the moppets are bound to come to the conclusion he's laughing at, not with them!

Proposes Public-at-Large Select Chest Agencies

Democratic Way, He Says

To the Editor: I have been dissatisfied with the operation of the Community Chest for a long time. But I haven't gripped in public, because I felt that the Community Chest is serving—to some extent—a worthwhile cause.

At the same time, I have heard other complaints. These aren't doing the Community Chest any good. More than that, they are doing serious harm to the really deserving welfare agencies that benefit from it.

I think that the time has come to give the Community Chest an overhauling. Maybe not now, during the current campaign, but after it is finished.

This is my suggestion: Conduct a personal opinion canvass of every individual and organization which each year is asked to contribute to the drive. Give each agency benefiting from the Chest an opportunity to preface this canvass with an educational campaign.

Then, in this canvass, let each individual select the agencies which he wants to benefit from Chest funds. There are several worthy agencies now operating that might be considered. But, most of all, let the Community Chest contributors decide where their money shall go.

If any agency does not receive at least 75 percent of the community's support, it should be crossed off the list and another more deserving agency substituted.

This is the democratic way of doing the old-fashioned town meeting type of democracy. We need a little more of it in the operation of the Community Chest.

It's Above Name-Calling

To the Editor: About letters from Limerick township:

It's really too bad that personalities and name-calling subjects had to get into the picture of a new school for Limerick township.

I hope the people of Limerick will overlook the uncalculated slams. And I hope they will not let them interfere with their marking the "yes" on the ballot, because nothing—name-calling nor criticism—

WASHINGTON

Democrats Grooming Trio for 1952 Hopes

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — Although the Democratic high command is striving desperately to offset a Truman defeat by recapturing the U. S. Senate, inside strategy is admittedly concentrated on the election of three governors as possible 1952 white hopes.

Should they fail in this move, they will be in desperate shape for a presidential nominee four years hence.

The trio consists of Adlai Ewing Stevenson, Frank J. Lausche and Chester A. Bowles. They are seeking gubernatorial victories, respectively, in the states of Illinois, Ohio and Connecticut.

At last reports they have a 50-50 chance to win, and a triumph for any of them in the face of a prospective Republican landslide would place them in the front ranks for 1952. Their friends plead guilty to such hopes, although they cannot make public admission because of the embarrassment it would cause President Truman.

LIBERAL: All three, ironically, have been associated with the so-called liberal and Rooseveltian wing of the party. Messrs. Stevenson and Bowles held key posts in various regulatory agencies during the New Deal regime. In the primary nomination, Mr. Lausche defeated a hostile, conservative, state organization. In their present contests, they have had the full support of the left-of-center wings represented by Leon Henderson, Eleanor Roosevelt and other survivors of the New Deal.

DEARTH: Anticipating a Truman defeat, political long-shooters at Democratic headquarters have been appalled by the utter dearth of future prospects for such high offices as the presidency and the vice-presidency. From the robing chamber of the Supreme Court to the cloakroom of the House of Representatives, they see no man who could command national prestige or support.

The only possibility on the Supreme court is Justice William O. Douglas, and he is persona non grata with party leaders and the "liberal" faction for refusing to accept the vice-presidential nomination at Philadelphia. Nor has he the kind of personality or reputation that would make public imagination.

There is no outstanding figure in the cabinet. Even if there were, they will go out of office next January, and disappear from the political horizon.

BEREFT: Although both major parties have drawn near presidential candidates from gubernatorial rather than senatorial chairs since the GOP named Warren G. Harding in 1920, defeat of Messrs. Stevenson, Lausche and Bowles would leave the Democrats utterly bereft insofar as tapping a Senator's concern.

The Middle West will have no presidential offering from the Senate, unless Professor Paul Douglas surprises the nation by defeating Sen. C. Wayne Harrison in Illinois. There is Sen. Scott Lucas of the same state, but frequent mention of his name for the vice presidential office has placed him in the shopworn class.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

For MISS MARION VIOLA EWING
137 Hall Street
Spring City
BECAUSE her engagement to Mr. Clarence J. Collopy, 239 South Main Street, Spring City, Pa., was announced recently.

The name and complete address of the author must accompany every contribution, but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 250 words will receive preference.

The older generation and our generation have made a terrific mess of world affairs, but our children must be prepared correctly for the gigantic responsibilities they must assume when they reach maturity. We should not be able to sleep nights if we let our children down by denying them the privileges and advantages that children in other communities obtain.

However, I don't blame Limerick residents for "going to oar" for their community, but Limerick township's children must be better educated than the deplorable conditions now existing.

Our teachers are doing a magnificent job, but they are hampered by the lack of proper facilities.

Blow to Their Pride

To the Editor: On Saturday, Oct. 22, in Pottstown's own paper, the gallant Shamrocks of Pottstown said they were playing the Mt. Carmel C. C. That was okay, but they also said that the people were not to get confused, that the big boys in green and white were playing the first team of Mt. Carmel, not the second which the Pottstown Shamrocks played.

That was their mistake. For the Shamrocks played identically the same team, man for man, that the Shamrocks tied, 0-0.

What is the matter, are the Shamrocks worried that the Rangers will take a licking at Mt. Carmel? Or are they worried that the Shamrocks owe the Rangers an apology? By the way, the Rangers beat Mt. Carmel C. C., 7-0.

Franksters at It Already

To the Editor: Halloween is still more than a week away, but already the young vandals of Mt. Carmel are at work with their shoddy "pranks," throwing corn, ringing my doorbell and making general nuisances of themselves.

I am writing this letter to urge the mothers and fathers of such "fun-loving" children to speak a warning word to their children.

Frankly, I am fed up with the whole thing. I am sick and tired of bothering policemen to come to my house on these "pranks."

I know perfectly well who is doing it, and I will have my next complaint to a magistrate and see if a warrant and a fine can be gotten to end these doings.

This is not a threat, only a word to the wise.

Phoenixville Shows the Way

To the Editor: Phoenixville has given the green light to a $2,000,000 housing project while Pottstown snakes along with a few houses here and a few more there.

I don't know what these houses will cost, but apparently there must be some market for them. The average family in Phoenixville certainly can't afford to pay any more for a home than a Pottstown family.

So, what is the hitch? Maybe Pottstown's self-appointed "experts" on the housing situation ought to give this matter a look over, if they aren't afraid of hurting their price.

Their Way to Say 'Thanks'

To the Editor: In answer to "Annoyed by Victory Parades" (Readers Say, Oct. 14), I would like to say a few things to Mrs. H. S. and tell her what I think. If we wouldn't go out and parade after our victories, what would the fellows on the team say? After all, those fellows won for us and we are just saying "thanks." They like to play football, but they also like to know that someone is behind them.

If you and the rest of the old crabs in Pottstown don't like our victory parades, that is really tough.

Speaking for Myself

I SHOULD LIKE to point with civic pride to that although there are plenty of hectic goings-on in the inflammable outside world these days, our local scene has never seemed more serene.

Tommy-Manville has had the same wife for three years, Macomber has had a wife for three years, and nobody in cafe society has socked anybody on the nose for 10, these many weeks, and it seems as if Betty Henderson has adopted a pudgic or shrunken pose for the press photographers.

Dull, isn't it?

The lobby of the Roxy theater may be a lot of things to a lot of people, but it is a respectable reincarnation of Kubla Khan's pleasure dome to some, a mausoleum with soft drinks to others—but one thing it has never been to me, and that is a center of intellectual discussion.

Usually the dialogue among the art lovers there is restricted to a comparison of Guy Madison with Cornel Wilde or an impassioned narrative from one Brooklyn-accented maiden to another in which it is related how Melville and Strindberg, on account he didn't behave like no gentleman.

Kay Thompson

But I must admit that the notion of la belle Thompson setting the pace for the future isn't without its gloomy side. Me, I don't want to move that fast. I don't want Gary Cooper to start moving fast. I want Jimmy Durante's sly look to stay slow and slow. Thompson is Thompson, but Garbo is Garbo, and I hope never the twain shall meet.

The limber, lanky, lithe-limbed Kay Thompson is tomorrow, or as close to it as I for one care to come without my radioactively-resistant suit. Her routines are as streamlined as a 1949 super-charger; her precision has the perfection of a rocket ship that hasn't been invented yet.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ASPIRIN is an effective drug for stopping pain and reducing fever. As such, it is most useful, but it is not something to take as so many people do today—on a hit-or-miss basis as a panacea for every pain.

As a matter of fact, though most of us can take aspirin safely, it may hold definite dangers for certain people. It should never be used except under the doctor's directions, for instance, by those suffering from severe heart weakness or any kind of kidney trouble. Others who, it is suggested, had better let it alone are diabetics and people who use alcohol to excess.

Some perfectly healthy individuals cannot take aspirin because in them it causes allergic reactions. Ordinary tablets being enough to produce swelling of the tissues, hives, redness of the eyes, and depressed heart action. These reactions may occur from 15 minutes to three hours after the drug is taken.

On the other hand, a good many people are so sensitive to aspirin that they already suffer from some other allergic disease, such as asthma or hay fever. Others likely to be allergic are patients with polypoid or little tumor growths in the nose and in such cases, aspirin sensitivity first causes symptoms affecting the lining membranes of the nose, throat and lungs, next, those affecting the skin and, finally, those which upset the stomach and bowels. Often enough, the allergic disorder itself is made worse by the taking of aspirin.

People often wonder how much aspirin would have to be taken before it could produce symptoms of poisoning. Ordinarily it would require a very large dose—something like eight to ten grams or from 24 to 30 of the usual aspirin tablets. In sensitive people, however, a much smaller amount has been known to cause severe and even fatal reactions.

In children under four years of age, particularly in those who are weakened or sickly, doses of three quarters of a gram up to two and three quarters grams cause such disturbances as loss of fluids from the body, vomiting and convulsions. Thus, it can be seen that aspirin, like all other drugs, should be used with care. Patients who are disturbed by taking it should consult with their physician to determine whether or not they are allergic to aspirin. If sensitive, they should, of course, not employ the drug thereafter. It sometimes is possible to tell when a person is allergic to the drug by placing a little on the tongue. In cases of allergy, this is followed by coughing, itching and swelling of the tongue.

HOW ABOUT A 'CEASE FIRE'?

Hollywood

By EDITH Gwynn

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25—Richard Widmark, who'll no doubt go down in film history as "Mr. Blonde Menace of 1947-1948," has just landed the male starring role in "Slatery's Hurricane" which he'll do as soon as "Down to the Sea in Ships" is finished.

Back to the original story of Herman Wouk's is the experimentation that the Navy has been making with hurricanes, and having it's "hurricane chasers" fly right into the "Richard Widmark" make their reports. Widmark plays a Navy pilot. Linda Darnell is the only other set for the picture so far.

Andre De Toth, spouse of Veronica Lake will direct.

ANN SOTHERN with Vasco Bonini, wrote a new two we saw at the Cinema opening at Mo- cambo. And ex Bob Sterling just joined up with Mona Freeman and Pat Kearney as a tag before 11:30 the place was jammed with a dressy crowd of music-haters who obviously ducked out of the opera downtown, after they'd had their pictures taken.

Horace Schmieding with Selene Walters, Ed Flynn and Betty Hamsel, tabbed together. Gina Janss may be a "Champagne chanteuse" to her press agent, but though she has a good voice, she is no rose in night club floor. She should hit the road for a concert tour or something. But not in her present harp, which would make Harpo Marx jealous if he saw it!

REMINDS US — Rory Calhoun has been wearing hair ala Wessanlier for seven months for "Sand" and then has just finished "When a Man's a Man." He told us that two days ago he had a hair-cut, figuring there'd be no re-shooting on either picture. When he got home that same evening, there was a call from Fox to report next week for added scenes for "Sand!" Any suggestions for sudden curls?

SUSAN PERRY, nee Candy Tooton, will be Humphrey Bogart's leading lady in "Knock On Any Door." Bogey has lots on his mind these days, what with reading his own production of "Tokyo Joe" for which he'll send just about everyone in the company but himself to Japan to film much of the footage.

Couple of months ago we itemed that he was waiting only for the necessary permission of General MacArthur to do this. And the Gen's okay has come through at last!

THERE'S AN AMUSING side-light to the fact that June Allyson and Gloria de Haven are snaring a N. Y. hotel suite and gallivanting all over Gotham together. The two of 'em have been more or less feuding for over a year until recently, Gloria is divorcing Dick Payne, and June's marriage to Dick Powell is full of storm signals, so maybe the gals found their bond being refugees from a "bail and chain gang" so to speak. If you look closely at "Beyond Glory" which stars Alan Ladd, you'll see Tom Sun

Justice of the Peace C. E. Templin, Route 422, Stowe, won third prize of $2 with a report of the collision of a trailer-truck and tank truck on Route 422. The accident occurred when the trailer-truck rammed the rear of the tank truck which had halted at the railroad trap leading to the Stowe Trap Rock quarry.

CHEST PARADE —

strutting... Marine Reserves looking dapper... Pottstown Public Library float with two kids "studying" at a desk.

Rotary members with banners, looking a little self-conscious, were in the parade. Fire trucks from the Phillips, Goodies, Neeks, Sannetoga and West End setting the kids ecstatic... Two of the cars of the Children's Aid Society of Montgomery county rolling along with locked bumpers, kids on back of the last car.

The Salvation Army band playing "Onward Christian Soldiers," getting the only unsolicited hand of the evening, and Capt. Meral Cox in the last rank performing on the trumpet... The Pottstown Elks lodge drill team doing razzmatazz formations before the parade.

The women of the Pottstown hospital Senior auxiliary in one of the area's longest, blackest convertible sedans... The hospital's float showing a hospital bedroom scene with nurses, doctors and patient (a ducky little blonde, wrapped in the ears in bandages and splints, smiling as though her rich uncle had died).

BOY SCOUTS, led by Robert Borteman, out en masse... The attempted burglary was discovered at 4 o'clock the past Wednesday morning. Minutes after the police were called, The Mercury was notified. The tip gave policemen an opportunity to make a full search.

Justice of the Peace C. E. Templin, Route 422, Stowe, won third prize of $2 with a report of the collision of a trailer-truck and tank truck on Route 422. THE CROWD was orderly through the entire parade.

More persons seemed to favor the north side of High street than the south and the crowd began to thin along only at Washington street.

All along the way youngsters made up most of the audience. They clambered into trees, ran between units and exploded balloons which were sold by the gross on corners.

One future burglar fell into step in the rank of dignitaries and walked the whole way jauntily swinging a magnifying glass; three others rode the back of Miss Fulmer's car, at times chatting with her.

Down the length of the route, householders came out on their porches, looked out their windows. Children, tucked in bed for the night, could be seen pressing noses against darkened panes. The roads were alive with kids.

THE AGED, some too old to walk upright, the toddlers, too young to walk at all—they all stuck out their heads when the big show marched by.

Near Washington street in a deserted taproom, a venerable bartender lifted the front paws of his ancient dog onto a chair that he, too, might not miss anything.

After it was over and traffic had returned to subnormal along the main drag, crowds still choked the streets for half an hour and some uniformed marchers strayed around even longer.

One group, the Kenhorst band, made probably the snappiest exit. The drum major marched the bandmen up High street from York to a designated spot where they smartly marked time in unison until their bus came along. Then they broke ranks in orderly fashion and embarked.

Practically the entire police department and at least one truck from each fire company participated in the parade.

The director was James F. Baird, general secretary of the YMCA.

hired waitress admit slaying her husband. She was to have been a witness against Mrs. Powers.

Defense Counsel Frank Metro said his client decided this morning to change her plea of innocent. "The ultimate decision rested with the defendant and her family," he said.

MRS. POWERS faces a possible maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $1000 fine. Sentencing was set for Nov. 17. The State had asked a second degree murder verdict, with a possible maximum sentence of 30 years, saying it could not prove premeditation.

As the trial started its second week today, Metro told the court, "my client has indicated to me she will offer a plea of guilty to manslaughter."

Pilot Club Members Hear By-Laws and Constitution

The Pilot club of Pottstown last night heard the first and second readings of the club's first set of by-laws and constitution.

The meeting of 17 members was held in Art's diner with Herbert N. Maier, temporary president, in charge.

At the club's next meeting on Monday night at 8 o'clock in Art's diner members will nominate and elect regular officers and vote on acceptance of the by-laws.

Harold Dalton headed the committee which drafted the rules.

Maier last led a discussion on progress at Municipal airport, for which members have solicited funds, and issued a call to keep up solicitations for the borough's part of the money, which will be spent to modernize the port.

RUSSIAN VETO —

negotiations aimed at making the Soviet currency the single money for all of Berlin. The currency arrangements would go into effect by Nov. 20. The final provision called for a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers by Nov. 30 for a discussion of the whole German problem.

The Western powers refused to negotiate on the currency issue until the blockade is lifted; Russia refused to raise the restrictions until the currency agreement actually is in effect.

There was no immediate indication what the next move would be. An authoritative British source said the Big Three Western foreign ministers had arranged a meeting for 9.30 a. m. tomorrow to decide future steps.

This source said U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman would meet at the French Foreign Ministry.

TODAY'S COUNCIL meeting was delayed more than two and one-half hours, while Bramuglia consulted the western powers on a formal which he believed might be acceptable to Russia. The Western powers, however, turned the new proposal down.

Vishniakov did not keep the delegates in doubt for long when the council finally got under way. Raising his voice, he told the Western delegates, "You are telling us to take off the communications restrictions and 'we will begin the talks'."

"There is no time limit for the removal of the restrictions," he declared. "The talks will begin at the same time the restrictions are lifted and that is what you call simultaneity."

He said Russia could not accept the resolution because it was based on the removal of the restrictions first.

Defense Counsel Frank Metro said his client decided this morning to change her plea of innocent. "The ultimate decision rested with the defendant and her family," he said.

MRS. POWERS faces a possible maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $1000 fine. Sentencing was set for Nov. 17. The State had asked a second degree murder verdict, with a possible maximum sentence of 30 years, saying it could not prove premeditation.

As the trial started its second week today, Metro told the court, "my client has indicated to me she will offer a plea of guilty to manslaughter."

TO THIS HERBERT Brownell Jr., campaign manager for Republican presidential candidate Gov. Thomas E. Dewey promptly replied:

"Mr. Truman's speech is a transparent attempt to drag the campaign down to his own level."

"The inexcusable falsehoods in his speech are obvious but the clearest hypocrisy was in his plea for civil rights."

"Mr. Truman does not believe in civil rights."

"In 1942 as a United States senator, he voted against allowing Negroes from poll tax states the right to vote. By mud slinging he can not dodge the official record of his votes in the United States Senate."

Both the major parties, the Democrats and the Republicans, were claiming victory in the presidential election, now but a week away.

The President himself said at Chicago:

"We are sweeping toward victory."

BROWNELL PREDICTED that Gov. Dewey will score a "sweeping victory" and that the Republicans likely will keep their six-seat majority in the senate.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind) said the GOP will keep control of the Senate and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) even thought the Republicans might gain a seat or two in the election.

Meanwhile reports of million-dollar-plus spending for the candidates were filed in Washington.

The Democratic national committee reported that from Jan. 1 to Oct. 22, it received contributions totaling $1,196,296 and spent $1,503,709. The Democrats had a balance of $315,367 on hand at the start of the year.

The Republican national committee reported that from Jan. 1 to October 18 it received $1,464,153 and spent $1,706,370. The Republican report did not show money on hand Jan. 1 or the present balance.

Mail Must Go Through; It Didn't, So Postman Is

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 25 (AP) — A tired postman whose feet just could not live up to the motto of the mails found today that he, like the mail should have been, is through.

Harry A. Kant told U. S. Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins about the feet when he was arraigned on a charge of delaying and destroying the mail.

When he got so tired he could stand it no more, he took the undelivered mail home and tossed it in the wastebasket. A postal inspector said most of the discarded material was third class. But one envelope contained a check for $400. Kant was a temporary carrier.

WISER MOTORISTS PREPARE FOR COLD BLASTS
By Having Their Cars Winterized Now

Again that timely warning to motorists: Have you visited your service station yet to have your car winterized?

If not, make a note on your calendar to have the matter attended to this month for cold winter blasts are just around the corner and you want that car protected from the elements.

That means change-over to new oils and greases. New oil in the crankcase and a thorough lubrication job. That means attention to the radiator to see that it has no leaks, to have it properly flushed and the right amount of anti-freeze put in.

Beer From Kozak's Makes for Congeniality

When those friends or relatives drop in unexpectedly, there is nothing like having a few cold bottles of beer on ice and this with sandwiches will make any party congenial.

That is why it would be a good idea to phone 1933-W and have Kozak Bros., distributors, West High street, send out a case and keep one handy at all times.

Here you'll get such famous beers as Sunshime, Unica Club, Rolling Rock, Coopers, Pabst Blue Ribbon and Trommers.

And you'll probably want a case of pop or two for the kiddies so you can get fine mixed flavors of all soft drinks here at any time.

If you are planning a Hallowe'en party for the youngsters, a few cases of soft drinks will make the event a success.</

High School Editor Airs Yearbook Ideas In National Magazine

Wanda G. Gresh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Gresh, 26 College street, is the author of a two-page illustrated article on yearbook financing in the October issue of "Scholastic Editor," official magazine of National Scholastic Press association and the National Association of Journalism Directors.

Miss Gresh, who was editor-in-chief of the 1948 "Bear," Boyertown High school annual, was invited to write the article by the national magazine the past July as judges were circulating yearbooks at headquarters in the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.

Entitled "Financing Our Yearbook Is Fun," Miss Gresh's article covers two full pages in the magazine. Illustrations include a picture of the presentation of a radio as first prize in a contest sponsored by the yearbook to Irene Gehrs and the crowning of Mabel Grofe, of Ephesville, as Boyertown High school bicentennial queen by Marie E. Henne in the high school gymnasium the past June. A photo of Miss Gresh, the author, also appears.

AMONG FINANCING projects discussed in the story are the ball, the betons contest, and cake sales held on the yearbook staff, as well as the annual subscription drive.

Miss Gresh is now a freshman at Kutztown State Teachers college.

At the last meeting of the Boyertown School board, formal recognition was given to Miss Gresh. She will receive a letter of congratulation from the board and also from Supervising Principal George B. Swinehart.

Switch to Dial Phones Due Soon in Boyertown

The work of installing Boyertown's new dial telephone system is about completed, and the installers are engaged in making various tests of the new equipment and switchboards.

Telephone company employees are placing new number cards in each telephone and new directory pages listing all the new telephone numbers, as well as dialing information and the method of making out-of-town calls, will shortly be distributed to each telephone subscriber.

It is expected that the cut-over to the new system will take place in the near future.

MR. BROWNSTONE AND HIS SPARE TIME...

Mr. Brownstone, being a successful man in his business, came to the singular conclusion that he could, therefore, be a successful man in any business.

To prove his point, he waved aside Mrs. Brownstone's suggestion that he seek outside counsel and advice about his personal investments, telling her that he was quite capable of managing such things himself in his spare time.

But Mr. Brownstone's spare time—what with fixing the clocks, installing the television set, and playing golf and bridge—was too spare to do his investments justice. And before Mr. Brownstone was willing to admit that things weren't precisely as they should have been, he made the alarming discovery that he had been using his spare time to lose a great deal of the money he had so skillfully made at work!

What Mr. Brownstone should have done was to spend a part of his spare time listening to the story of our Investment Supervisory Service.

At a modest cost (and often, because of allowable tax savings, a nominal cost) this service provides the constant and thorough attention and supervision of specialists; it provides complete freedom from details; and it provides thoughtful counsel and advice, based on the latest available information.

—It's a fine service for all who know how to spend their spare time profitably—as we can prove to anyone who is interested.

For a Strong, United America Put this Winning Team in Washington

For strength and security at home and abroad, we must have a united nation. That calls for teamwork in government, teamwork between government and the people. It demands the ablest leadership.

Their lifetime records prove that Dewey and Warren will provide such leadership. They will untangle, unravel and unsnarl the muddled mess in Washington. They will deal intelligently and firmly with high prices, including the high price of government. They will establish clear-cut, consistent policies which will build a real foreign relations program and restore our leadership to world peace. They will unite Americans in teamwork with each other and with the world.

What have they done? Here's just a part of the record:

As Governors of two of our greatest states, they have given the people well-organized and well-run government. They have cut our waste and extravagance, saved money for the taxpayers, reduced the public debt. New York taxpayers were saved 800 million dollars through Dewey's tax cuts; in California, Warren's tax reductions amounted to 500 millions.

Dewey and Warren do more than talk about tolerance; they have put it into law and practice. They do more than talk about cleaning up corruption and crime; as the nation's most successful district attorneys, they closed the rackets and jailed the racketeers. You can depend on this—there will be no Communists in a government headed by Dewey and Warren!

These candidates are men of action, not just talkers. Dewey's low-rent housing plan, America's No. 1 attack on slums, provided homes for 160,000. Warren's administration has kept Californians housed all through the most rapid population growth in history. Both have outstanding programs for veterans.

They know the needs of agriculture, labor and business, because California and New York are leaders in industry and farming. They understand the people's everyday problems, because they know what it is to be poor—both of them started at the bottom and went to the top by making good on every job.

They've done it before; they'll do it again—for all the people of the United States!

For Teamwork in Government, Elect

DEWEY WARREN

And for complete teamwork, elect a Congress that will work with Dewey and Warren. Re-elect the Congress that reduced your income taxes against the bitter opposition of a Democrat Administration; the Congress that freed the 7½ million lowest-income taxpayers from all income taxes; that protected the rights of all workers; the 80th Congress that carried out the will of the people.

Local Students Get 'Psycho-Physical' Test of Driving Skill

Learning how to make allowance for not-quite-perfect drivers, including themselves, is the goal of groups of Pottstown High school driver-trainees who are taking psycho-physical tests at Norristown.

The students are driven to the courthouse in the dual-control training car by Charles L. Hamilton, driver - training instructor in the borough schools.

These testing devices have been installed by the Montgomery County safety council and are designed to spot such deficiencies as night blindness, poor distance-judging and narrow field of vision. Hamilton aids in the testing. His students are the first in the county to take the exam.

SINCE A STUDENT with no driving experience may make a good score, the tests are valuable in testing potential driving skill.

Many of the revealed deficiencies can be corrected by glasses or by further training, and minor deficiencies that cannot be eliminated can be controlled if the student is prepared to make allowance for them.

Furthermore, Hamilton asserted, the students in his driver-training classes, after seeing each other's failings, will not be inclined to drive through traffic, blithely believing the other fellow will behave as the book dictates.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Ethics of The Play

IN THE SECTION on Proprieties in the new Laws of Contract Bridge, various acts and mannerisms are summarized as being improper. A number of these are obviously wrong since they convey information to a player's partner and so influence his ensuing moves.

Listed among such acts from which a player should refrain are: playing a card with undue emphasis, playing with undue delay when the play does not need consideration, preparing to get a trick before all four hands have played to it, detaching a card from his hand before it is his turn to lead or play, failing to keep the tricks in correct order and distinct from one another, or allowing some to be placed on the opposite side of the table, watching the place in a player's hand from which he draws a card, and drawing any inference therefrom, and making gratuitous comments during the play as to the auction, the adequacy of the contract or the nature of the hand.

On the subject of revokes, the statement is made that it is improper to attempt to conceal a revoke card if a hand is not played out, "but there is no obligation to call attention to an established revoke or other irregularity committed by self or partner." There may be no obligation to call such a revoke, but some players, including this writer, make it a practice always to do that, thus observing the same pro-ethical code as the golfer who insists on accepting the stroke penalty whenever he alone sees that his ball has been carelessly moved a bit by his own action or while he was addressing it.

If anyone should not realize the fact, the Proprieties state that it is improper to play out of turn, carelessly or otherwise.

While branding as reprehensible allowing partner's hesitation, remark or play, the Proprieties point out that it is proper to draw inferences from an opponent's gratuitous hesitation, remark or manner, but that such inferences are drawn at one's own risk.

One important clause declares it is proper to warn partner against infringing a law of the game, such as against revoking, or against calling, leading or playing out of turn. But nothing is said about warning an opponent against an irregularity, as some players invariably do, including this writer—a right which is inherent in a game based on sportsmanship and which could not be repealed by any law.

Our definitely sound provision is that all four players are responsible to see that each hand plays a card, and but one, to each trick, and should forthwith correct such an irregularity. Another says the declarer should play out all hands in which there is any doubt as to the outcome.

The kibitzer receives real attention in the last in the statement that bystanders not playing should refrain from making gratuitous remarks; they should not call attention to any irregularity or mistake, or speak on any question of fact or law except when requested to give an opinion. This ought to put in his place the traditional loquacious kibitzer who doesn't know enough to refrain from trying to influence the game, and those other careless ones who have been known to forget themselves so far as to make bids or double contracts by the active players.

Baby Trojans Dump West Chester High On Gridiron by 13-7

Two touchdowns in the second period gave the Baby Trojans of Pottstown High a 13-7 victory over West Chester's junior varsity griders on Franklin Field yesterday.

West Chester also scored its touchdown in the second period.

The victory was the second of the year for the Baby Trojans as compared to one defeat.

Pottstown opened scoring early in the second quarter, driving 65 yards to cross the Warriors' goal line. Long runs by Al Walton and Dave Miller's passes to Tom Pollock and Pete Steppe moved the pigskin to the West Chester 18-yard line from where Rod Jacobs circled right end to score standing up. Bill Mignona's placement kick for the extra point was no good.

West Chester was awarded the ball on the 50-yard line after two Pottstown kickoffs went out of bounds. Scott lost five yards, but Nichols tossed a long pass to Scott on the Pottstown 20 and the flashy Negro halfback scampered the rest of the way for a touchdown. Moran converted the extra point and West Chester went in front, 7-6.

THE BABY Trojans, however, remembering how the Pottstown Varsity lost a 7-6 decision to the West Chester Varsity Saturday, came roaring back with its second touchdown to regain the lead.

Starting on their own 40, the Trojans marched right down the field to net their second TD. Doug DeBlase passed to Steppe for 25 yards and running plays moved the Trojans to the 15-yard line. Walton then scampered to the one-foot line and Miller scored on a quarterback sneak with only five seconds remaining in the first half. This time Mignona's placement kick for the extra point was perfect.

Neither team really threatened in the second half, although the Trojans did move to the West Chester 25 late in the fourth period.

Passer Completes 12 of 14 Aerials Against Ursinus

SWARTHMORE, Oct. 25 (P)—Sam Gary, a senior who is playing his first year of college football, is catching himself right into the national limelight with a pass completion mark of 67.6 percent.

Gary, hurling for the Garnet of Swarthmore college, a small school in the suburbs of Philadelphia, has the best passing record among the nation's small colleges.

Against Ursinus the past Saturday Sam used his throwing arm 14 times and made good on 12 of the tosses for four touchdowns and 173 yards. Swarthmore won 24-7.

LEW ELDERSON, the likeable Swarthmore coach who is working with a squad of only 28 men, had only this to say: "Oh, why wasn't he around before?"

Sam missed out on his first three years of college because he wasn't eligible as a freshman and then because of an injury.

"Gary evidently decided that he was going all out this year," Elderson said today "since it was the only season he could play. To say he has exceeded my greatest expectations is putting it mildly."

IN THREE GAMES—Swarthmore lost the first two 36-28 to Pennsylvania Military college and 46-20 to Wesleyan—Gary pitched 71 passes, completed 48 and tossed for 10 touchdowns.

BEAU JACK EYES RAY ROBINSON'S WELTER CROWN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25 (P)—Beau Jack quit the lightweight ranks for good today and signed for a match he hopes to use as a springboard toward the welter-weight championship.

Jack, the former Augusta, Ga., shoeshine boy, twice held the world's lightweight title but couldn't make the grade when he tried to take it from the present champ, Ike Williams.

Now the Beau wants to work himself into a title fight with Sugar Ray Robinson the welter king.

HE SIGNED up today for a Nov. 23 bout at Convention Hall against a pretty fair battler in his own right, Chuck Taylor of Coarport.

Jack, the fighter with the flailing hands, complained that he was weakened by the strain of making the 135-pound limit against Williams. He carried the fight to Ike for four rounds but could go no farther than the sixth when the referee awarded Williams the victory on a technical knockout.

Prior to that, in a few shots at welter, Jack did well. He broke Johnny Bratton's jaw in a TKO victory in Chicago and beat Johnny Greco and Tony Janiro. The Beau fights next in Washington Thursday against Eric Boone.

INGRAM INVITES NFL OWNERS TO PEACE PARLEY

All-America Conference Commissioner Opposed to Fighting Over Players

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (P)—In a public plea to end the "war" between the two big professional football leagues, Admiral Jonas Ingram, All-American conference commissioner, today invited National Football league leaders to sit down and iron out the problems of a common draft and co-ordinated schedules for the two circuits.

Speaking at the weekly luncheon of the Metropolitan Football Writers association, Ingram said he was opposed to all kinds of war and he believed a peaceful solution to the problem could be reached.

He insisted, however, that his talk was not an indication of weakness within his league but rather that it was an effort to make his position clear in view of recent statements by club owners that some clubs would "fold" if the inter-league tussle was not terminated.

"The All-America conference has been in existence three years and it now is stronger than ever before," he said. "Our average attendance this year is better than ever before, although some clubs are weak. I am sure that in 1949 we will have the same eight teams with even better players and eight of the finest coaching staffs in America."

INGRAM EMPHASIZED that his talk was a public invitation to the National league club owners to hold a peace session but added "I think I have done practically all I can do. The next move should come from the National league. I am ready to meet anybody on a common plane at any place and any time."

The only questions holding up peaceful relations are those of the common draft of graduating college players and co-ordination of schedules in cities where both leagues have clubs, Ingram insisted. He is strongly opposed to any proposal that the two leagues be amalgamated.

He explained that this was only his personal opinion and that he was not speaking for the conference in opposing a combination of the leagues.

"THE TWO LEAGUES now have a common respect for each other's contracts," Ingram said. "The thing they must have is the common draft. I am all for the player, but we all know players are getting too much money. No club can have three $20,000 quarterbacks. It has to fill the stands just to pay the quarterbacks."

"These things can be worked out very simply. If two or three men from each league would sit around a table they could decide them in five minutes."

Pennsylvania Seeks 500th Grid Victory

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25 (P)—The University of Pennsylvania goes after its 500th football victory Saturday in an inter-sectional clash with Washington and Lee.

Coach George Munger, although pleased that Penn scored its fourth straight by beating Navy 20-14 Saturday, said that he was concerned over his team's failure to cover on passing.

He gave the squad a day off but called for full-scale drills tomorrow, particularly on pass defense. The Generals of W and L are expected to depend heavily on their air game.

'We Want Football,' Cry Students At Carnegie Tech; Pitt Celebrates

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25 (P)—Football celebrations and protests had priority over classes today as two football "deemphasized" colleges.

Pitt's 21-14 upset victory over Indiana Saturday caused throngs of students to stream through downtown streets in police-accompanied motorcades.

Earlier, more than 3000 packed Memorial hall to cheer members of the Panther squad. Chancellor Rufus H. Fitzgerald and Coach Mike Milligan.

BUT DEEMPHASIS was protested bitterly at neighboring Carnegie Tech where the Tartans lost to Case Saturday, 26-20—their 23rd consecutive defeat.

Several effigies of Tech's President Robert E. Doherty hung from trees and walks were smeared with painted attacks.

Stanley Grayouskie Named Winner of Football Contest

Stanley Grayouskie, 120 South Franklin street, has found a new way to win first prize in The Mercury's weekly football guessing contest.

In making his selections in the ten games on the coupon, Grayouskie picks the same score for every game, and this week his system paid off in 9 of 10 rounds.

The South Franklin street resident finished in a tie for first prize with Charles Hess, of Bortown, by selecting nine correct winners, but Grayouskie's system of using one score for all the games eliminated Hess from the No. 1 position.

Judges were amazed at how Grayouskie's system came close to matching the correct score in seven of the 10 games on the coupon. Judges revealed that Grayouskie completely outclassed Hess when scores were compared with the original results of the games.

Grayouskie selected West Chester, Michigan, Penn State, Dartmouth, Swarthmore, Penn. California, Kansas, Nevada and Princeton to win over the weekend and he picked those teams to win by a 21-7 score.

Here's how close he came on some of the games: Dartmouth dumped Harvard, 14-7. Swarthmore defeated Ursinus, 24-7. Penn won over Navy, 20-14. California blanked Washington, 21-0 and Kansas romped over Nebraska, 27-7.

Judges announced that Grayouskie will receive four tickets to Pottstown High-Coatesville High football game which will be played on Franklin Field Nov. 6.

Hess, by winning second prize, will receive two tickets to the same game. Both contestants missed on the same game, Penn State vs. Michigan State. Grayouskie selected Penn State and Hess picked Michigan State. The game ended in a 14-14 deadlock.

JUDGES REVEALED that 132 contestants entered the fifth contest sponsored weekly by The Mercury. Not one of the contestants, picked Penn State to tie Michigan State.

Many of the contestants ran into trouble on the Princeton-Columbia tussle which saw Princeton win in an upset, 16-14.

Nineteen contestants managed to select eight correct winners while 39 came through with seven winners.

One group of students paraded with a placard reading: "Deemphasize Doherty." Another crowd filled the hall outside the president's office chanting: "We want football."

The Tech president ignored their yells but later came out to talk to several hundred students who jammed his small conference room.

"SOME OF YOU have come to the wrong school," Doherty told them.

EAGLES, BEARS CARDS RECORD TOP STATISTICS

Philadelphia, Chicago Leads Defense; Redbirds Pace NFL in Offense

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25 (P)—The figures that seldom lie—statistics—have added weight today to the generally accepted theory that there are only three powers in the "big club" National Football league.

Club statistics, released today, show the Philadelphia Eagles, Eastern division leaders, and the Chicago Bears, co-leaders in the West, far ahead defensively. The Chicago Cardinals, tied for the Western lead, represent the best offensive club.

In overall defense, the Bears have a decided lead, topping the circuit in permitting the fewest yards to be gained against them: 604 on the air and on the ground.

THE BEARS have yielded only 423 yards by passing. The Eagles are second at 560. By passing, the Bears have given up 462 yards. Here the Eagles rank fourth with 746 behind the Green Bay Packers (645) and Washington Redskins (637).

On the basis of percentage, the Boston Yanks have the best pass defense, permitting only 27.4 percent of all aerials to be completed. The Eagles are second at 33.8.

It is the Bears ahead in total offense with a net yardage yield of 1085. Again the Eagles are second with 1311.

THE EAGLES lead in permitting the fewest points, 56, but the Bears are only one point behind.

Parolee Questioned In Sex Slaying of Teen-Aged Couple

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Oct. 25 (AP) — A 21-year-old reformatory parolee, who broke into a run when he saw a squad car, was being questioned tonight in the sex slaying of a teen-age couple.

Detective Norman Brandup said the man peeked around a building and then ran when he saw Brandup's squad car. A radio summons brought additional cars to block off a three-block area, but the man slipped through. He finally was caught by policemen 15 blocks away.

Brandup said the man was being asked where he was Saturday night when Raymond Smith, 18, was shot to death and his girl companion, Gertrude Bauman, 17, was raped and then killed.

Smith's body was found yesterday, lying nude in the Eau Claire river at the edge of a country club golf course. Miss Bauman's body, clad only in a sweater, was lying on the river bank about 175 feet away.

Dr. T. S. Rosen performed an autopsy. He said that Miss Bauman had been raped and then shot three times with 22 caliber long rifle slugs. Smith, the physician said, had been shot four times.

Sheriff Lloyd Thompson said deputies dragging the river today found Miss Bauman's shoes. Smith's
